Description

Elegant Louis XV buffet from the end of the 18th century. This piece of furniture is made of fruit wood, cherry pear and walnut. The front feet are particular, in fact they are shaped like tops while the doe or shell foot was common. No extensive restoration was required, only cleaning and waxing. The patina is clear and golden. There is a "secret" removable drawer, it also serves as a slide for the right drawer. The drawer knobs are in turned iron. Free shipping for mainland France.
