Description

Very nice pair of vintage armchairs from the 50s. Their style is very recognizable with its red vinyl seat, its slender armrests, as well as their so-called "compass" feet. The beech structure is in very good condition, as is the covering. There are traces of time, but this does not hinder their use and guarantees its authenticity. These armchairs are very comfortable and have a timeless style. Are you looking to bring a vintage touch to your interior, while having a useful object? These armchairs are made for you!
