Description

Large Louis XVI style mahogany bookcase. Very well architected, this library is very harmonious in its forms. In the lower part it has six drawers below which we find six doors. The upper part has a beautiful network of shelves arranged on a rack. The two sides, forming two large columns, have doors on their sides (see photos). It is presented in two parts. Superb piece due to its blond mahogany wood, its general harmony and also its large capacity in terms of number of books/objects that it can support.
