Description

Large woodwork trumeau having a large painting representing a genre scene in a medallion supported by two satyrs. The painting dates from the end of the 18th/early 19th century and is signed (see photo) it has had two repaintings, partly some missing parts. The frame is in oak and dates from the 19th century as well as the mirror. Due to its dimensions and the freshness of the colors, this trumeau is very decorative.
