

PROANTIC
LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

Canvas By Collin Sekajugo Is A Contemporary Ugandan Artist. Self-taught "queen Dancers"

2 500 EUR

Signature : Collin Sekajugo

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Other

Length : 100

Width : 100

Description

Canvas By Collin Sekajugo Is A Contemporary Ugandan Artist. Self-taught "Queen Dancers"

Collin Sekajugo, a renowned artist from Uganda, embodies a true catalyst for social consciousness and healing through his captivating art. His creations not only delight the eye, they also open the mind to crucial social issues that affect our contemporary societies. Sekajugo positions itself as an ambassador for pressing issues, ranging from discrimination to environmental upheaval, from segregation to social disintegration.

Through his artistic work, he explores in depth the elements that shape or weaken our societies. Its powerful message is a demonstration of social transformation, a call for unity and reconciliation of diverse identities around our shared values as a people. His commitment to social transformation

Dealer

16Bis Antique

Généraliste

Mobile : 0607957007

175 avenue Gambetta

Saintes 17100

is not limited to his artwork. Collin Sekajugo is the founder of Ivuka Arts in Rwanda, an incubator for promising young artists, helping them develop their skills and find their place in the art world. He also established WEAVER BIRD - Community for the Arts in Uganda, transforming a once deprived village into a hub of community creativity and tourism for all of East Africa. Collin's art is impressively versatile, spanning from painting to mixed media and performance art. He has participated in numerous residencies, workshops and conferences in Africa, Europe and North America, while exhibiting his works in various venues around the world. His designs are both exhibited in public and corporate collections and are featured in galleries in East Africa, South Africa, Japan, Europe and the United States. Collin Sekajugo is a visionary artist whose art transcends borders to inspire change and reflection around the world.