Description

Exceptional miniature vase with red bias from the sought-after "Indiana" series by Legras. A true collector's item, perhaps a unique model for this 1900 Legras vase. We find the red and glittery green (called aventurine) with gold highlights so characteristic of the Indiana series. Note, and this is extremely rare, that the motif of this series is not poppies but red berries. My research was unable to find another piece with this pattern. The granite and speckled glass is truly striking, a real gem of glassware. The photos speak for themselves... Perfect condition Miniature vases are even more popular than so-called "normal" sizes because they are much rarer. Height: 5.5 cm; diameter: 6.5 cm Real collector's item, perhaps unique.
