Description

We offer you this important and singular model of an antique ceramic vase with an ivory-colored cracked glaze.

* circa 1930

Height: 30.5 cm / Diameter: 31 cm / Weight: 4,750 g

A handsome circular vase with a wide, flattened body topped by a stepped, softened rim and a tubular neck flared at the top. It is flanked by two arched cylindrical handles, starting at the lower shoulder and attaching to the middle of the neck. Its surface features a beautiful crackled glaze; the combination of this beautiful texture and its powerful yet harmonious shape gives this vase great aesthetic appeal.

It is most certainly the work of a great ceramist whom we have been unable to identify.

The object is in good condition; however, it should be noted that its glaze shows a number of surface bubbles from the glaze that burst during firing (see the two penultimate photos), but this is discreet and does not really detract from its aesthetics.
