Description

Stained glass window in cathedral glass painted in grisaille, very decorated (interlacing, foliage, etc.) presenting a scene with children in the center. Above, a roundel depicting two figures entwined on a blue background, below a red roundel showing a lobster. We also notice a yellow cabochon point between the illustrated scene and the lobster roundel. Signed: C.

Pizzagalli (Carlo Pizzagalli, glass painter in Paris who participated and won several prizes at the Paris Universal Exhibitions, notably those of 1889 and 1900).

New black wooden frame.

19th century period.
