Description

Pair of extravagant black and white Formanova armchairs covered with bouclé fabric Italy 1970s. Formally very mature pair of armchairs manufactured by the company FORMANOVA. The rounded and well upholstered backrest and the round, slightly curved seat give the armchairs an extremely pleasing shape and provide great seating comfort. The rounded iron legs have tall brass leg cuffs, adding to the character of the chairs. The connection between the backrest and the seat is made by a distinctive iron connecting element. Pierre Frey's bouclé fabric cover with its slightly coarse texture emphasizes the chair's character. The objects are completely refurbished, metal repainted, upholstery renewed, fabric renewed, foot cuffs newly polished. These chairs
