Description

Mask presenting a female face. The facial features are fine and the head is topped with an elaborate hairstyle. The teeth are shown filed down, which is a mark of beauty. This mask, called "Gu", represents the wife of the "Zamble" mask in the "Zaouli" dance. The nose is not pointed, but is flattened at its tip.

It is a very beautiful achievement from the beginning of the 20th century.

Hardwood with patina of use, black and red pigments.
