Description

I offer you this interesting 18th century engraving by Probst. it teems with picturesque details. Do not confuse with this same late optical view from the 19th century where everything is false and falsified. Augsburg is one of the main centers of production of optical engravings in the 18th century and Probst one of the masters of quality. Be careful, small gaps in the corners, see in the photos, it is framed in good quality around 1970.
