Description

Straightforward design armchair from the 1950-ies Italy.

The lines are striking, the object tapers down the sides, the armrests also taper, the backrest tilts back for seating comfort and then straightens again.

Tapered brass legs with adjustable height at the bottom of the slightly wider end piece.

The linear look of the armchair is emphasized by the high-quality graphic bouclé in offwhite-taupe-black from Larsen.

The feel of the fabric is pleasantly natural and the touch is dry.

The seating comfort is particularly good, the head can be leaned.

The object looks light-footed and cozy due to the structured fabric.
