Description

Oil on canvas by French painter Bernard Locca dating from 1971. This beautiful canvas represents the portrait of a mother and her children. Portraiture is B. Locca's specialty. In fact, it manages to capture the expressions and subtle movements of the face. This painting presents very beautiful, warm colors. The line there is interesting. The application to the details such as the drapes, the shoes and especially the faces is remarkable. The frame blends harmoniously with the color palette chosen by the painter. Benefiting from a large scale, 80 x 105 cm excluding frame, this painting has great decorative potential. It is signed and dated lower right. Lowercase N missing above the signature.
