Description

Art Deco style ring in platinum (mascaron head hallmark) decorated in its center with an oval-shaped bezel-set emerald. This is supported by two curved arches above a curved, covering plate, thus following the shape of the finger. The whole is set with brilliant-cut diamonds and finely openwork. The differences in levels give volume to this ring, which is flat on the finger, like many Art Deco rings. The edges of the platinum settings have been beaded to respect the aesthetics of this era and provide beautiful finishes. In the same way its profile is nicely openwork. The emerald has a beautiful color as well as a beautiful crystallization, much more appreciable visually than in photos...to come and estimate, therefore, in our store if necessary! Weight of the emerald estimated at approximately
