Description

Earrings in 750/°° pink and white gold (18 KT, owl hallmarks) from the 1950s. Graceful scrolls in pink gold are brought together by white gold links adorned with brilliant-cut diamonds...everything refers to movement on these large and aerial loops, evoking the plant and even aquatic world. The rounding and curves of the volutes give softness and shine to these curls, just as dynamic in their design. Their rendering when worn is very feminine. The closure system consists of a rod (for pierced ears) combined with a clip for better support. If you do not have pierced ears, our workshop can easily remove the stem for wearing with clips for non-pierced ears. Conversely, it will also be possible for us to remove the clip system.. Total weight of the diamonds estimated at 0.20 ct Gross weight:
