Description

Oratory in solid walnut from the Louis XIII period. This piece of furniture rests on four straight legs with a rectangular section. It opens on the front with a leaf revealing a shelf, as well as a flap hinged by means of two wrought iron and studded hinges. The upper part is composed of a framed mirror topped with a dentil cornice. Our piece of furniture is decorated with four twisted half-columns. The right rear foot has an old joint. The bottom molding has a small gap at the left corner of the piece of furniture (see last photo) The mirror has numerous traces of oxidation (see penultimate photo) The patina is original. This piece of furniture is in good condition given its age, remember that it dates from the middle of the 17th century!!!!
