In very good used condition, beautiful collector's rug in Kork wool of the finest quality. Persian rug incorporating the criteria of ancient Persian decorations, knotted with great finesse and high quality wool, kork wool.

This wool is the first wool of the lamb, it is taken under the belly and on the neck.

Around 1950 we could hardly imagine the immense work to create such a marvel.

The quality of these Persian pieces is clear, the work is fine, precise and durable. The materials used are of top quality, which means that these pieces remain in good used condition, 50 to 70 years later.

This rug is clean, the wool is soft knotted beautifully and finely tight as these rugs always are. It reveals to us shades full of contrasts, many colors. Large bouquets placed on an orange field and an incredible medallion, orange, curry, blue and ivory.

It is surrounded by a border of bouquets of lotus flowers, stylized flowers and palms with five bands.

Traditional wool rug, comfortable and heavy duty. The nuances underline this learned floral design in the great tradition of Persian art which is also found in Mughal art, inspired by the miniatures of the school of Tabriz, then capital of the Persian empire, but completely revised in beginning of the 20th century.

Indeed, the trade in Persian carpets has existed for several centuries and the trade, the European and American demand, means that the workshops comply with the requirements of the sponsors and those since the sixteenth century.
