Description

Beautiful Italian design mid-century Murano art glass transparent vase. This model vase in the style of Ercole Barovier (Murano, Italy, 1950s). A stunning little vase made with a distinctive Barovier vase technique called "bullicante," which involves creating controlled air bubbles within the thick glass. These bubbles add a captivating and dynamic element to the vase, creating a sense of movement and texture. This technique became widespread in the mid-century period and became an iconic model. Excellent vintage condition. No brands or signatures are imprinted on the vase.
