Description

Preparatory model of a footbridge of military or regional interest, replacing it after destruction, clearly showing the stages and progress of the work to be carried out, a fine work of engineering or civil engineering carpentry.

The model is placed on a base which dates it to around 1950.

Beautiful work, as meticulous as it is educational, Good condition, no or few defects, just needs to be reattached to its board. When I found it, I had to extract a kg of dust, there was a little bit left
