Pol Chambost (1906- 1983)

Pol Chambost, a sculptor by training, chose clay as a visual expression from the 1930s to the 1980s. A Parisian ceramist, he explored multiple facets of creation, from single objects to small series. As such, he is one of the spearheads of the Chambre Syndicale des Céramistes d'art de France. The curvilinear flights of his ceramics with sensual, daring but also traditional visions,
