PROANTIC
LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

Decorative Panel Entitled "opus I". Contemporary Work. Ls59461908h

3 750 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Brass

Width : 66

Height : 85,3

Depth : 2

Description

Decorative panel in the scagliola genre, entitled "Opus I", in brass marquetry, rectangular in shape, representing a parrot looking to the left, perched on its branch decorated with leaves in blue tones and clusters of cherries. He is holding a cherry in his beak. At the top left, we can see a butterfly. Beveled frame in gilded brass.Contemporary artist work.Dimensions : H 85,3 x W 66 x D 2 cmPossibility of forming a pair with another panel that we present, a parrot looking to the right!Scagliola, from the Italian Scaglia, which means "scale", also called "marble stucco", which is an inlay technique imitating marble and hard stones, based on selenite and pigments. This technique, which was created at the beginning of the Seicento in Italy, became fashionable because it was an effective substitute

Dealer

Jean Luc Ferrand Antiquités

Antique Dealer, Paris Flea Market, Marche Biron.

Tel : 0608784337

Fax : Devis de transport sur demande en fonction de la destination.

85 Rue des Rosiers, Marché Biron, stand 39

Saint-Ouen 93400

for pietra dura marquetry, very fashionable in Florence, but much more expensive.