Description

India, first third of the 20th century, very pretty silvered bronze statuette depicting Nandi, the Vahâna of Shiva, the white bull serving as his mount, in a lying position. He is generally found in this posture, lying in front of the entrance to temples dedicated to the god Shiva. Very good quality workmanship both in the carving and in the casting. Beautiful old patina.

Length 14.2 cm. The scale indicator in the last photograph is a small model of a lighter from a brand known to everyone.

Good condition except for slight normal wear and tear.

We take particular care with our packaging by using optimum protection. The shipment is made with insurance included. Shipping rates: mainland France: 22 euros, countries of the European
