Description

Provenance: FrancePeriod: 1800 caSignature: DubueFunctions: hours and minutes, half 'n' hour chimeDimensions: 43 x 30 x 14 cmThe female figure, dressed in clothes that harken back to classical antiquity, could represent a personification of Wisdom or the Muses, often depicted in a similar way in Greco-Roman mythology. The fact that she is holding an envelope and what appears to be a letter could indicate a role as a messenger, perhaps of news or knowledge. This could symbolize the transmission of wisdom or ideas through time.The clock positioned inside a half column recalls classical architecture, evoking stability, duration and the order of the universe.
