

Beautiful Cup With Display Stand With Garlands Of Roses By Daum And Louis Damon, 1890, Era Ga

490 EUR

Signature : Daum et Louis Damon

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Glass

Diameter : 20,5 cm

Description

Beautiful bowl with display decorated with garlands of Roses, motifs by Louis Damon and Daum glassware. In the purest art-nouveau style, this pretty meloné glass bowl, typical of Daum production from the 1890s, is finely decorated with enamel garlands of roses, winding around 2 blue threads. The cup is embellished by a large square display displaying the decoration on the edges. The whole is also enhanced with gold on the edges. At this time, Louis Damon ordered his glassware (also called "white") from Daum, starting in 1889. He then decorated them in his store on Boulevard Malsherbes in Paris. This shape, this ribbed appearance (called "melonné") is typical of the illustrious glassware, there is no doubt about its origin. In the last photo, you will find an extract concerning Louis Damon and

Dealer

Nancyartpassion

art-déco, art-nouveau, école de Nancy

Mobile : 0682060732 , par sms en 1er contact

Essey-lès-Nancy 54270

Daum in Philippe Ollland's book "Dictionary of master glassmakers". Dimensions of the cup: 20.5 cm in diameter Dimensions of the display: 21.5 cm. on the side Cup signed in gold "Damon, 20 boulevard Malsherbes Paris", perfect condition, circa 1890 Very beautiful old collectible set, very fine decor!