Description

Very interesting anthropomorphic pitcher called "Pichet Jacquot" in polychrome earthenware from the East from the 19th century. Our amusing earthenware represents a man dressed in a frock coat and wearing a tricorn on his head, sitting astride a barrel, a bottle in one hand and a goblet in the other. Note, small chips and enamel breaks due to use as well as the age of the object. It does not show any manufacturing marks. Dimensions: height 28 cm Shipping and protection costs 20 euros in mainland France, other destinations contact us.
