Description

Delft

Workshop unknown

Circa 1720

This 18th century Dutch delftware lamp is painted in chinoiserie style. The decoration shows us many birds, flowers, and trees. The main scene is Peacock, sitting on a rock. On top of the vase is mounted a brass lamp fitting, and can be used with all international voltage. The wire will need a plug for your local fitting but can be directly plugged into the power supply.

This a unique item and a real eye-catcher for your interior!
