Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Wrought iron

Length : 58cm

Height : 24cm

Description

Primitive object: wrought iron light fixture, swivel candlestick and workbench foldout, called "St François" used during 18th and 19th century in french craftsmen's workshops. This object, intended to hold a candle, was embedded in the wood of the workbench, and was adjustable in 3 dimensions allowing the craftsman good precision in his work. Good condition, unpolished iron, 19th century work, one flaw however: the original iron pick was replaced recently by a more stable wall platine

Dimensions: Height: 24cm, closed: 18cm, open: 58cm Take a good look at our photos.....
