Description

Set of antique prints: Series of 3 vintage medical photographs of the same case, but with the patient showing slightly different expressions and postures.

Clinical case: chondro-costal dislocation.

1 photo is dated 1903, which makes it possible to date the other 2.

A very interesting relic of the past, as we have the history of the cause of this dislocation. I'm selling the 3 photos together to keep this testimony as it was intended at the time.

Condition: general good condition with traces of age.
