Description

French Double Gilt Bronze Picture Frame with Green Moiré, Late 19th Century Elegant French double picture frame in gilt bronze, dating from the late 19th century, circa 1880-1900. This finely crafted model is distinguished by its beautifully chased decoration, an openwork arched pediment adorned with a floral basket, and two circular apertures designed to display portraits or photographs. The interior retains its original green moiré silk backing, beautifully preserved and enhancing the warm brilliance of the gilt bronze. The refined chasing and balanced composition make this an elegant decorative piece, ideal for a desk, mantelpiece or console, and a fine example of French decorative arts from the late 19th century. Period: Late 19th century, circa 1880-1900. Origin: France. Materials: Gilt bronze
