Description

This sculpture from the end of the 15th century, beginning of the 16th century, represents St Peter. He is strongly recognizable by the clothes worn, the tunic and pallium, characteristic of the apostles, by his short and curly hair, his beard and his attributes such as the key and the book.

The gaps due to the period do not in any way alter the quality and strength of this piece.

Very decorative, it is presented on a base and can also be applied to the wall.

Dimensions without base: 50 cm Dimensions with base: 58 cm

Comes from a large private collection.
