Description

20th century Oil On Canvas By Franck Innocent (1912-1983), Spring In Heudebouville, 1978. Beautiful oil on canvas by the painter Franck Innocent, a celebrated painter of the Ecole de Rouen, captures the vibrant charm of Normandy in Spring in Heudebouville. With bold brushwork and luminous colors, this original oil painting reflects Innocent's deep connection to the french countryside. A fine exemple of mid-20th century French post-impressionism, perfect for collectors seeking authenticity and character. Signed and dated lower right, countersigned, titled and dated on the back. With dedication on the back "to my wife, with my most respectful and grateful feelings. 12/31/78. Jean" and "To my mother, in Vally, with all my affection. Pierrot". Well framed.
