Description

Graphite and watercolor drawing representing two caricatured costumed characters.

The drawing of the faces is superbly realistic, there are a lot of details in the costumes.

On a poster on the left we read:

MEDICAL STUDENTS' BALL FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE POOR, MARCH 4, 1865.

signed lower right G.Gostiaux* and dated 1865.

In the 19th century between the ball of the crazy, the ball of the 4 zarts and the medical interns' ball the illustrators had work to create a number of posters and leaflets to promote these events.

Our mixed technique deserves to be saved, the support is a very thick paper, once framed it will regain its superb appearance. *Gabriel Gostiaux (1838-1910) is a painter, draftsman, illustrator and lithographer who collaborated on numerous
