Description

Ferrando's melancholic and symbolist soul is deeply revealed in this Nabian-inspired work. Everyone is free to draw from it the esoteric or spiritual meaning of this ferrywoman on the calm and clear wave where the reflections sleep that Rimbaud would not have disdained. Excellent work from the master of the Algiers school, in an unusual format. Subtle and delicate chromatic range, interesting sketch on the back currently being identified after consulting the archives relating to the painter. Original frame.
