Jörg Danielczy is an artist who is the worthy successor of Johann Joachim Kaendler, first master modeler of the factory, and the reputation he built. Jörg Danielczyk had a decisive influence on the sculptural language of MEISSEN and opened up new dimensions of porcelain art with his works. With respect for this particular material, he knows how to explore its limits and its possibilities and, in doing so, continually penetrate new spheres. The manufacture owes not only great works of art to Jörg Danielczyk. Collectors around the world associate its name
