Description

Pretty 19th century polychrome terracotta by Joseph Le Guluche (1849 - 1915), entitled "Yes...but I like fries better". Charming subject, unfortunately formerly damaged and glued back together in several places (head, left hand and base). The collages are not very obvious and the overall aesthetic does not suffer; Additional photos are available, upon email request. Joseph Le Guluche is one of the emblematic artists of the creations of L'Isle-Adam, in the second half of the 19th century. Signed intaglio, and marked on the base, with publisher's stamp. Height 49 cm; Width 16 cm; Depth 15 cm Weight 3,330 kg; shipping in addition.
