Description

Pretty Japanese-inspired lacquered side table from the end of the 19th century. The top is finely lacquered and embossed, it is made in a Japanese-inspired landscape, with birds, flowers and foliage, boats and a sunset over the mountains. This lacquered part is protected by a glass panel. This beautiful work of art can be attributed to the workshop of Bailly Théroux. As for the table, it is made of walnut and richly carved, the uprights and uprights are made up of openwork panels.
