Pierre Chapo (1927-1987) is a French furniture designer who fell in love with wood after meeting a shipwright.

Enrolled at the Beaux-Arts de Paris in 1947, he made many trips to Scandinavian countries, the United States and Central America during his studies. On his return to France, he creates his workshop and continues his work of wood, oak, ash and elm.

In 1957, he opened his gallery in Paris where he exhibited his creations as well as those of Serge Mouille, Isamu Noguchi or Charlotte Perriand. He will create the bed «Godot» for Samuel
