Description

Beautiful still life or 'capriccio' of flowers and fruit characterized by light and bright colours, which bring out the vivid colors of the elements such as the orange of the melon and the red of the vine leaves. The plant compendium composed of summer fruits is placed on a multi-level plot of land with a clear sky in the background.

The painting bears an old attribution to the prestigious transalpine painter Maximillien Pfeiler, it is more plausible that this painting was painted by one of his talented transalpine followers during the first half of the 18th century.

The painting is provided with a vintage rose-gold Salvador frame. The painting is in excellent condition.
