Very pretty pair of miniatures on ivory from the 18th century, probably Italian, representing Andromeda, and Saint Odile covering the sight. Very finely executed, these two gouaches are presented in a perfect state of conservation, in charming small gilded wooden frames from the end of the 18th century / beginning of the 19th century. Very slight difference in dimensions: 11.5 x 9 cm for one, and 12 x 9.5 cm for the other (with the frame).
