Description

There we find the work of Frans Masereel, very borrowed, with two women in close-ups carrying jugs on a path. The technique is typical of this painter. It bears the initials FM, 1947. Frans Masereel (1889-1972) is a Belgian engraver, painter and illustrator. He mainly worked between Switzerland, Germany and France. A committed artist, humanist, libertarian, anti-militarist pacifist, marked by the bloody torment of the First World War, his works uncompromisingly denounce the horrors of war, oppression and social injustice. Author of a profuse work, tireless illustrator, teacher. The work is well preserved, it has a protective tile (which may cause some distortion in the photos). However, we report stains and foxing, wear, friction, scratches in the margin. For the
