Description

Pretty large earthenware vase or planter, "the peach wader" by Keller and Guerin in Luneville. Really very good quality for this ceramic vase where we see a wading bird capturing a small fish in a few centimeters of water. Numerous details with also beautiful water irises and a decoration of vines in another reserve of the vase. Very fine decor, the whole is enhanced with gold. Beautiful size: 26 cm in height and diameter, circa 1900. Very good condition, a tiny little chip of "millimeter at the neck and tiny cooking hair under the base (original). Sublime ceramic, very beautiful finesse.
