Biography:

The artistic ceramics factory "Cacciapuoti" was founded in Naples by Cesare Cacciapuoti, who belonged to a family of majolica manufacturers (Maioliche Artistiche Maiolica Faenza). His son Giuseppe (1828-1896) inherited the business around 1880, when some of his works were exhibited, first in Turin and then in Milan. His brother Ettore also worked in the factory, presenting some of his "figure" ceramics at the Paris Exhibition of 1889. At the beginning of the 20th century, the factory, specializing in terracotta (terracotta) imitating bronze and copper, was run by Giuseppe's sons, Cesare (who opened his own factory in 1883 in partnership with the tableware manufacturer Schioppa), Ettore and Guglielmo. Among the collaborators of this first period, we remember the painter Giovan Battista Foschi. At the turn of the 19th and early 20th centuries, painters and modelers of the highest level collaborated with the company, notably Attilio Pratella and Filippo.
