Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Gold

Width : 4,5 cm

Height : 8,8 cm

Description

Superb salt or perfume bottle with a large solid gold lid.

It was used as a perfume bottle by its last owner because a slight fragrant smell remains.

The bottle is ovoid, in red tinted glass.

It is topped with a large, high frame in solid gold entirely chiselled with flowers and foliage forming curves and counter-curves.

The inside of the lid contains a spring-loaded glass plate which ensures the watertightness of the bottle.

The inside of the lid is marked: Diller with a closed crown.

Very good state. Scratches to the glass. There are small remains of odorous product in the bottle that I did not clean.
