

Empire Period Ormolu Clock, Allegory Of Spring - 35.5cm

1 200 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Bronze

Width : 18,4cm

Height : 35,5cm

Description

Elegant chiseled bronze and ormolu clock, France, Empire style, Restauration period circa 1815-20. At the front is a Mythological scene, the nymph Flora, allegory of Spring. Very beautiful gilt with a matt and shiny finish, original movement which seems functional and complete (mechanism to be given to a watchmaker for cleaning and start-up adjustments: service on request, contact us).

Beautifully model, in excellent condition.

Height: 35.5cm

Width: 18.4cm

Dealer

GSLR Antiques

French Antiques - 18th to 20th century.

Mobile : +33658910924

4 rue Vicat

Grenoble 38 000