Description

An antique white gold ring with old cut diamonds and synthetic sapphires. This ring is made of white gold, a popular choice in the Art Deco style for its modernity and elegance. White gold serves as a background for diamonds and sapphires, giving them a unique contrast and emphasizing their beauty. The method of obtaining synthetic sapphires has been known since the beginning of the 20th century and was often used in jewelry of that era. Two center-set high-purity VS-SI diamonds in antique brilliant cuts with a total weight of 0.12 ct. Origin: Western Europe, 1930s. Ring size: 14 (54) - inquire about the possibility of adjustment Gold grade: white gold grade approx. 0.700-0.730 Weight: 2.23g The purchase is accompanied by a jewelry certificate from a gemological laboratory.
