Description

The tapered chandelier is decorated with large, honey-colored leaves.The leaf is naturalistically shaped with veins and a leaf structure, the leaf is slightly curved and the outer edges are wavy.The outer glass is smooth, with gold-colored particles in the glass and tiny glass stones strewn on the back, which give the inner glass a rough surface and refract the light. As a result, the light emitted by the chandeliers is rather subdued - matt and not shiny.10 light bulbs can be fitted in the lamp.
