The rug-making process begins with a design, developed by drawing from a set of established styles, with motifs of flowers, leaves, branches, animals and scenes inspired by Persian history. Carpets from the city of Keshan (Kashan) or Kachan are known throughout the world. Famous for their quality which is undoubtedly one of the best. In the Persian Empire, the city was considered one of the most important places of trade. Kachan carpets generally have a central medallion, floral ornaments of different colors.
