Description

Magnificent pair of modernist Art Deco style wall lights. This model created in the 80s which he called "Carlton" was imagined by the famous designer decorator Pierre-Yves Rochon in reference to the famous hotel of the same name. From the MLE brand, these sober wall lights have a stepped frame with a refined and very typical Art Deco design, a style to which they pay wonderful homage. In chromed metal, their original white opaline glass tube diffuses a warm white light. These wall lights can be installed vertically or horizontally depending on your needs. Equipped at each end with a fluorescent tube, they work perfectly and are ready to be installed! Dimensions: Height / Length: 40 cm x 12 cm depth Weight: 2,150 kg each wall light or 4,300 kg for both (excluding packaging) Good condition. They date from the time of creation and both the chrome and the glass diffuser tube are of quality - their weight is proof of this! The diffuser tube is made of thick glass, while the glasses of the currently manufactured wall lights are made of PVC. They served. Very light marks of use, scratches, traces of age. Several other wall lights are available. Please note that I respond to any request about my items. If you do not receive any response from me, do not hesitate to check your spam or junk mail.
