Description

Splendid silvered bronze inkwell, finely embossed with marine motifs. It is centered by a shell that acts as a support for the inkwell and raised by four elegant shell-shaped feet. The pen holder is enchantingly made, depicting a child intent on reading. The set is completed by two refined ink bottles and a pen cleaner, made of ground crystal with a lost wax cast bronze cap. Finally, the pen consists of a feather and a tip for dipping in ink. An object of great value and value, ideal for decorating a desk or table with class and refinement. Italian manufacture from the first half of the 19th century.
