Description

This magnificent 19th century clock embodies the elegance and refinement of the period. Adorned with a reading putti, made in gilded bronze and meticulously chiseled, it evokes grace and innocence. Its circular white enameled dial from the famous horlogerie Vernet in Paris, delicately framed by a garland of foliage, offers a subtle contrast and adds a touch of delicacy to its aesthetic. Resting on a rectangular white marble base with cut sides, this clock is not only a remarkable art object, but also a functional mechanism, revised and in perfect working order, ready to enrich your interior with its timeless charm.
